Cut all pieces according to the piece list, adding a seam allowance.

The back closing can be worked as desired. If you choose to close the dress with a slash placket and button or a zip fastener, the button band facings may be omitted.

Stitch the side piece to the front and back pieces, right sides together.

Press the seam allowances towards the middle piece and topstitch.

Hem the very short sleeves and insert or attach elastic.

Hem the short sleeves as well, insert the elastics and chinch as desired.

Stitch the sleeves to the front and back pieces, right sides together. Press the seam allowances towards the front and back piece and topstitch.

Work the neckline facing and closing in the back as desired.

Close the sleeve and side seam in one continuous motion.

If you chose the very short sleeves, you only need to stitch the side seam. Hem the blouse.

Your ROXY blouse is complete!
